BRIDE IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Husband's Legs Cut Off by Train

FATHER FINDS BODY

Had Gone to Inform Her of Accident to Spouse

PITTSBURGH, July 18.—

Shot to death in her honeymoon cottage at Port Perry, near Braddock, Pa., the nude body of Mrs. Julia Coyne, 18-year-old bride, was found concealed under the bed clothing today.

The discovery was made by John Conroy, father of the girl, after repeated efforts to locate her and inform her that her husband lost both legs in a railroad accident during the night.

Identify Gun As Husband's

The girl had been dead at least 12 hours when the body was found.

Death was caused by a bullet wound through the left temple, according to police.

A revolver, the chamber of which was empty, was found in a holster slipped under the head of the slain bride. It was identified as belonging to Patrick Coyne, husband of the girl. In a pocket of Coyne's coat, hanging in a cupboard, detectives found four loaded shells and two empty ones. Two empty shells were found in a fire grate in the room.

I. W. W. OFFICERS DENY DISPATCH

Claim No Members Ordered To Port Arthur

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 18.—

I. W. W. headquarters here today denied dispatches carried in morning papers that "500 members of the Industrial Workers of the World had been ordered to Port Arthur."

Officials of the order headquarters here declared that "no messengers were sent along the coast with orders or instructions to unemployed members ordering them to Port Arthur."

Dispatches from Los Angeles this morning were to the effect that, 500 strong, I. W. W. had been ordered by messengers carried by six runners to appear in Port Arthur, Texas, immediately, "because of the beating of three of their members there."

The dispatches from Los Angeles this morning resulted from reports said to have been given out by the Los Angeles police, who were said to have claimed that the messengers carried the instructions along the waterfront. The dispatches further claimed that the police estimated there are now 500 "lost" loose members of the order in Los Angeles.

Police Chief W. W. Covington had nothing to say concerning the dispatches when interviewed this morning. In a published interview, carried in an article today, he was credited with saying that while he did not much believe the wobbles were coming to Port Arthur, that "We'll take care of them the best way we know of."

SAYS BRITAIN SHOULD CLEAR OUT OF EUROPE

LONDON, July 18.—Great Britain should "clear out of Europe" and let France "settle her account with Germany by her own methods," Lord Beaverbrook, proprietor of the London Express, declared in a statement on the eve of publication of the British note to Germany. Beaverbrook, a Canadian by birth, is one of the most powerful figures behind the scenes of British policies, having helped to make and unmake prime ministers and the governments.

BEGIN CLEANUP OF CITY'S BARNES

Improvement Program Progress Reported by Herpin

In their program of clean-up, repairing and renovating the city's barns and barn yard is not overlooked J. O. Herpin, city engineer said today.

Work of draining the yards and filling in the low places is completed, the city engineer said, and instead of a muddy, boggy place the barns and yards are fairly presentable, he said.

At the city hall carpenters are carrying on their repairing and renovating work, finishing off the city commissioners' room with beaver board and white paint. The water has been moved outside and old rotten flooring in the hall is replaced, the city engineer pointed out.

Corporation courtrooms, adjoining the place station, has been given additional floor space with the removal of the partition between the firemen's sleeping quarters, and in police headquarters, an office has been built for clerk of the court. Window sills and frames in the city engineer's office are now being renewed.

Neches Park Caretaker Is Instructed to Keep All Automobiles Out

Instructions to the caretaker of Port Neches park not to allow any motor automobiles to drive around through the park were given Tuesday afternoon by J. O. Herpin, city engineer, he reported at commissioners' meeting today. Signs fixing parking places for automobiles in the park, and warning motorists not to drive their automobiles in the park also will be placed, the city engineer said.

This action follows a protest filed with the city commission Tuesday by representatives from the Women's Federated Missionary Society against allowing automobile riding in the park, when it was pointed out to the committee that the practice endangers little children running and playing throughout the park grounds.

FACES COVERED, MEN TELL STORY

Spokesman Declares Stolen Wife Used As Lure

ACID MARS BEAUTY

Deny They are Members of Ku Klux Klan

TULSA, Okla., July 18.—

The following alleged "confession" by 12 masked men to the burning with acid after abducting Mrs. Pearl Hayter here Monday evening on the main streets and then taking her to Okmulgee, Oklahoma, where she told her story to the police, and the whipping a year ago of George Petropol, the wealthy Greek she claimed as her husband, was published here today in the Tulsa Tribune.

The Alleged Confession.

"Standing in a darkened room, with handkerchiefs covering the lower half of their faces, twelve figures purporting to be prominent Tulsa and Sapulpa business men, revealed to a Tribune reporter what they claimed was the true story of the abduction Monday night of Mrs. Pearl Hayter and the whipping a year ago of George Petropol, the giant Greek she claimed as her husband.

"The leader of the group that circled the captured woman brandied the man and woman, who has been variously known as his wife, secretary and housekeeper, as blackmailers.

"He asserted while the others nodded their heads that the pair for more than a year has been tricking well to do men in Tulsa, Sapulpa and other Oklahoma towns, extracting large sums of money from those who feared exposure.

"He cut, acid applied.

"We kidnaped the Hayter woman early Monday night on a prominent downtown street corner here, just as she described. There was no train ride. She was taken to a secluded spot in an automobile. There her hair was cut and the acid applied. Later we drove her to Okmulgee and turned her loose.

"The acid was not used so as to burn her severely but to make her hair grow back.

"We are not members of the Ku Klux Klan and we have nothing to do with a Berryhill oil lease or any other oil deal connected with this matter. We are the victims of this pain and their friends.

"This story is being given to you that the public may know the exact truth and all others may take warning that it will not be healthy for them to steal away the wife of a hard working American with the lure of money and diamonds, then use her as a tool for blackmailing American citizens."

Out of the business district the speed limit is 20 miles an hour, Chief Covington said.

Lions and Families to Picnic on Gulf Beach

This is Lions Club night at McFadden's beach.

With skins and skeletons, pots and pans, and incidentally a supply of bacon and bread, for use in case the lions don't haul in the fish, the Lions and their families roared out of Port Arthur at 3 o'clock this afternoon, beach bound, officials said.

Rev. William Coughran, pastor of the First Congregational church, is chairman of the arrangements committee appointed for the outing tonight after the club voted for a beach party several weeks ago.

NEW WELL TO DELIVER WATER IN SIXTY DAYS

Drilling operations for the city's new well in Port Neches park starts within two or three days, A. C. Herpin, city engineer, said today.

The drilling machinery and rig is being set up at the site for the additional water well, he said.

Completion of the well itself within 10 or 20 days, and connecting it up with the city's wood-line leading to Port Arthur will require about 10 days, according to the city engineer's estimates, giving the additional water supply to the city water mains in about two months, he said.

G. O. P. Insurgents Back Kenyon To Knit Party Ranks

NEW YORK, July 18.—A representative group of progressives have conferred and decided to back William S. Kenyon of Iowa, former senator and now federal judge for the presidency of the United States in the 1924 elections.

Kenyon will be put before the republican convention as an opponent to President Harding. If he fails of a nomination an independent nomination will probably be started.

Compromise Move.

Kenyon was accepted, the United Press ascertained today, as a compromise candidate between the various candidates. It was believed he more than any other man, can attempt to join the dissatisfied republicans, near progressives and ultra progressives.

Those who are backing the movement said Kenyon would have the farmer vote, the soldier vote and the labor vote. He could come nearer than anyone to joining the Birch group, the Johnson group, the La Follette group, the Norris group and all those other various groups which while they sympathize in most respects, vary widely in others.

Minnesota 'Crisis' Brings New Boom For Hi Johnson

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A brand new presidential boom for Hi Johnson as the compromise candidate between Mr. Harding and Senator La Follette was being built today upon the wreckage of the republican defeat in Minnesota.

Johnson's friends are not the only ones behind the boom. Some stand pat leaders were discussing seriously the availability of the California senator for the republican nomination to head off a third party move by Senator La Follette.

The overwhelmingly so-called anti-progressive victory of Marcus Johnson in Minnesota makes a La Follette third party almost a certainty, republican leaders believe.

Knocked to Pavement, Boy Dies of Fractured Skull When Hit by a Car

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 18.—

Struck by a car, a boy, 11 years old, died today of a fractured skull when he was struck by an automobile Tuesday evening.

Donald Lloyd Wilson, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, 330 Madison street, died on an operating table at Hotel DuPont. Death resulted when the child's skull was fractured in his fall against the pavement.

Parents of the boy requested that no charges be filed against J. H. Parker, 630 Austin street, an employee at the Magnolia Brewery Park, it is said, was watching a boy ahead of him on a bicycle, and failed to see the little boy, who dashed into the street after his ball, with which he had been playing in front of his home.

Evidence at the trial developed that De Silva became enraged at the sailor when he saw him (De Silva) to one of the girls in the dance hall. De Silva took at the old man, knocked him down, and as he attempted to arise from the floor, shot him, according to testimony.

All charges for De Silva to escape the death penalty through release on bail, and appeals in the case of the man were swept aside on October 25 when the court of criminal appeals, at Austin, dismissed De Silva's appeal, according to the opinion expressed by attorneys. Under the Texas laws De Silva lost his chance of appeal when he failed to volunteer surrender within 10 days after his escape from jail the afternoon of Oct. 10, 1922.

On the night of October 9, 1922 when De Silva and three companions escaped from the Jefferson county jail, dependages led by Sheriff Tom Garner, police of Port Arthur and Beaumont searched cities and hamlets, slips in Sabine district ports, and notified authorities for miles around of the Jefferson county jail delivery.

Escape to Mexico.

First killing of De Silva's escape into Mexico by anyone, later confirmed in a story written and copyrighted by The News by Lieutenant R. W. Mackie, Houston aviator, came through an anonymous phone call to the News Tuesday, October 10, the day following De Silva's escape from jail. The source over the phone told of De Silva being whisked away from the county and in a high powered automobile to a spot near the back Port Arthur Beaumont highway, where an airplane was in readiness and the flight to Mexico started.

A reward of $20 for the capture of Newt De Silva, and a similar reward for the capture of each of the other three who escaped from the county jail with him, was offered by Sheriff Garner the day following the escape of the prisoners. Rumors not discounted by Port Arthur police and members of the sheriff's department also had it that after making his way from the county jail, De Silva came to Port Arthur and fled out in this city.

SHERIFF LURES MAN TO TEXAS SIDE OF BRIDGE

Prisoner in Jail Identifies Him As DeSilva

SENSATIONAL ESCAPE

Was Convicted of Murder of Aged Sailor

LAREDO, Texas, July 18.—

A man closely answering the description of Newt De Silva, and positively identified by another prisoner as being the convicted murderer, escaped from the Beaumont jail last October, was being held in jail here today for identification.

The man was arrested here yesterday after he had been lured from the Mexican side by Sheriff Joe Condren. As he approached the American side of the bridge he was seized and taken to the city jail, where he is being held.

A deputy sheriff from Jefferson county was due to arrive here this afternoon to identify the man.

The prisoner insists he is not the man wanted, but submitted to arrest. He is slim, dark complexioned, with a coppery smile, and others are confident that they have the right man, as he gives no coherent account of himself.

KENNEDY MISSES SAN ANTONIO TRAIN

Positive identification of the man held at Laredo as Newt De Silva, convicted murderer who broke jail at Beaumont on the evening of October 9, 1922, will not be possible until late today.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Kennedy who left last night for Laredo armed with a capias for the man's return should be here to identify him.

De Silva missed his train connections at San Antonio and will not arrive at Laredo until late this afternoon, officials of the sheriff's department said.

A startling sequel to the escape and capture will be revealed if the man proves to be De Silva, officers hinted. The nature of the disclosure was not announced.

Newt De Silva was found guilty of murder and sentenced to death by a jury in 40th district court, on March 11, 1922. He was indicted for murder following the fatal shooting of C. Abramson, old sailor, on the night of December 17 in a place across the K. S. C. tracks known as "The Mansion."

Evidence at the trial developed that De Silva became enraged at the sailor when he saw him (De Silva) to one of the girls in the dance hall. De Silva took at the old man, knocked him down, and as he attempted to arise from the floor, shot him, according to testimony.

All charges for De Silva to escape the death penalty through release on bail, and appeals in the case of the man were swept aside on October 25 when the court of criminal appeals, at Austin, dismissed De Silva's appeal, according to the opinion expressed by attorneys. Travels All Way to Texas to Meet Fire Jinx in Port Arthur

He came all the way from the Empire state only to have his automobile catch fire in the Lone Star State.

It all happened at Procter and Stillwell boulevard at 8 o'clock last night, just as he arrived in Port Arthur.

The car, bearing a New York license tag, evidently developed a "flat" and a few minutes later, a "flat" call turned in at the fire station brought firemen out to the scene with the charmed truck.

The car, although badly damaged, was only critically destroyed, the firemen arriving in time to extinguish the flames.

MAUGHAN DELAYS AIR FL

BIG AIRDOME IS AGAIN ENJOINED

Temporary Injunction Granted F. N. Mabry

A temporary injunction restraining Ferguson brothers from building an air dome on Lake Shore drive and Mobile avenue was granted to Dr. F. D. Mabry, C. H. Barnes, and Howard M. Smith by Judge E. A. McDowell in 10th district court late Tuesday afternoon. Vernon J. Wister representing the plaintiffs, said today. This is the second time within the past few weeks that the injunction has been made permanent, in injunction suits growing out of their attempt to build an open-air theatre in Port Arthur.

The first air dome started by them was at the corner of Procter street and Atlanta avenue, torn down following a court order making permanent a temporary restraining order enjoining them from putting up the structure, filed by Ed Linn, and others.

The plaintiffs in their petition for an injunction to restrain Ferguson brothers from building the theatre on Lake Shore drive refer to a covenant formed back in 1890 between Ed Wagner and the Port Arthur Townsite company from whom Wagner bought the property, according to the record. In this covenant, the plaintiffs allege, it was agreed that no building should be erected within 40 feet of the street upon which it fronts, and furthermore, that no buildings, other than private residences, should be built on the land.

No date for a final hearing on the injunction petition was set by Judge McDowell. Wister said, and expressed the belief that should Ferguson brothers file a motion for a trial that the injunction case would be heard by a non-resident judge.

30Y DETECTIVE NABS THREE PICKPOCKETS
NEW YORK, July 18.—Samuel Eisen, 17, of the Bronx, is more or less a hero in his own "home town" as the result of a little gum-shoeing expedition of his own which resulted in the arrest of three pickpockets. Riding on a bus, Sammy noticed a man of a party of three pick a passenger's pocket. The three culprits left the bus at the next stop, with Sammy inconspicuously in their wake—one eye on his prey, the other peeled for a cop.

The men divided the spoils and threw the empty wallet into an alleyway. Boarding another bus, the three "villains" and our hero proceeded downtown. Sammy hailed a policeman, told him the story and witnessed the triumph of justice. A detective found the empty wallet where the youth said it had been thrown away and the pickpockets, all brothers, were held on charges of grand larceny.

Sammy denies that he took a correspondence course on detective work—which is probably why he was so successful.

LOWER BRAZOS SURVEY COMPLETED BY BOARD
AUSTIN, Texas, July 18.—A general survey of the lower Brazos river has been completed by the state board of water engineers looking towards a reclamation of the prison farms located in that vicinity. The survey was made at the request of Governor Neff, who wants to prevent a recurrence of the devastating floods of a year ago when much of the cotton on the prison farms was washed away after two months.

The work in this connection will be carried on through the general reclamation activities authorized by an act of the recent legislature.

held him up, robbed him of the $400 collected as fare from Houston to the border, and then swam the river, reaching the Mexican shore safely, were published. Lieutenant Mackie in his account told the News, and published December 13, 1922, denied the feature of these reports that held De Silva robbed him of the $400 fare, or swam the river into Mexico.

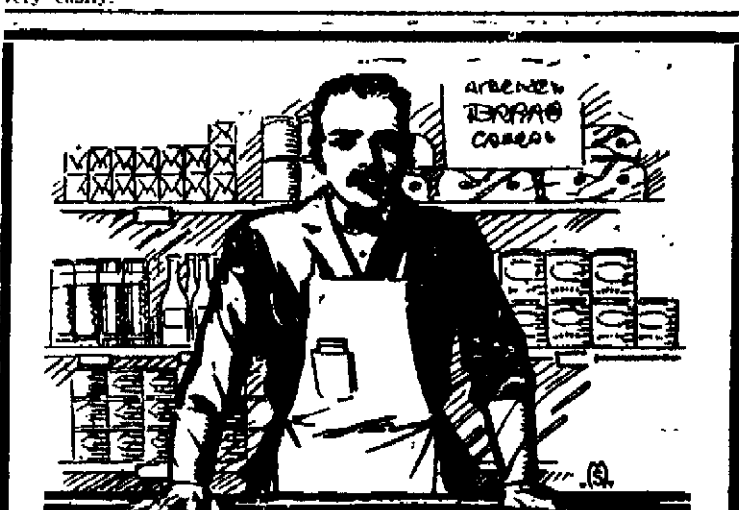

Rode Mackie's Plane
De Silva was picked up on McFaddin's beach early on the morning of Friday, October 13, by the Houston aviator and revealed his identity to Lieutenant Mackie the second day they were together on the flight to the Mexican border, according to Mackie's own story of De Silva's escape into Mexico. They parted company near Hebbonville, when the airplane's engine bearings burned out, forcing the machine to the ground and De Silva caught a truck bound towards Hebbonville, Mackie said.

Arrangements for Mackie to pick De Silva up at McFaddin's beach were made in Houston, Tuesday, October 17, parties unknown to Mackie chartering the plane and paying the fare for a "Mr. Johnson, an oil man, who has to make a hurried, secret trip to Tampico," the Houston aviator stated. Throughout the voyage in the airplane, De Silva treated the aviator with the utmost courtesy, making plans, however, that any attempt to deliver him to police officers would result in death at his (De Silva's) or his friends' hands, Mackie declared.

Once on the airplane trip to the border, De Silva became very nervous and impatient when a landing had to be made and a night spent at a farm house until repairs could be effected, according to Mackie. De Silva was quieted at this time by a quantity of "dope" secured from a country doctor, the Houston aviator said.

When the plane was forced down again out in West Texas, De Silva mingled with a crowd of Mexicans that gathered around the plane while the pilot made repairs and adjustments, and although a sheriff or a deputy sheriff was within a few feet of the man under sentence to hang for murder in Jefferson county, his identity was apparently unsuspected. Several days after De Silva's escape from the Jefferson county jail visitors in Port Arthur from High Island told of an airplane landing there for a short time during the early hours after the jail delivery. With the publication of Lieutenant Mackie's story that he was forced down at High Island after picking De Silva up on McFaddin's beach, officers declared they were confident this plane reported by the High Island people was the one which carried De Silva to within a few miles of the Mexican border.

FATHER SEEKS MISSING SON

Wm. Burnette, Jr., Reported To Have Disappeared

Officers and the aid of Texas Company employees was invoked today to locate William Burnette, Jr., 22-year-old man who disappeared yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Burnette, who has been an employee of the Texas Company for the past seven years, and who was engaged in the laboratories of the company here at the time of his disappearance, arrived at the company plant yesterday morning at his usual hour and left the plant at 8:30.

An official of the company, in communication with the News office this afternoon, said "he has not been seen since."

His father, William Burnette, Sr., instituted a search for the boy this morning when he failed to put in his appearance. Failing to find William, Jr., at the Texas Company, the officers, it is understood, were notified, and the search for the missing man begun.

Burnette is of medium height and fair complexion, weighing about 150 pounds.

"I. W. W.-ism" is the subject of the sermon to be delivered by Rev. William Oeschger, at the First Christian church, Sunday night, July 22, at 8 o'clock.

Additions to Engineer Band Assures Good Exhibition at Austin

The 111th engineers band is growing. This was the announcement given out this morning by Staff Sergeant Bob Miller, following the addition of three new members, the sergeant expressing appreciation at the response the organization is receiving from Port Arthur.

The continued growth of the organization bespeaks of a successful trip to Austin at the annual encampment in August, Sergeant Miller asserting that "we plan to put Port Arthur on the map" at the camp.

May Use Curb Lines to Establish Parking Zones

Further discussion of the parking zones on Procter street and elsewhere in the business district took place between Chief of Police W. W. Covington and members of the city engineering department in city commission meeting today without any decision towards definite action being reached.

A point yet to be settled, the official said, is whether or not the diagonal lines shall be painted on the street paving as was formerly done, or put on the face of the curb. The parking lines painted before lasted only a little longer than two weeks, the chief of police said, and appeared a waste of time, material and money.

The paint purchased for the present zoning work is guaranteed, J. O. Herpin, city engineer, said, but expressed the opinion that lines on the curb would serve the purpose. Stands for fixing places reserved for trucks to load and unload in the business district are about ready to be placed, C. C. Logan, street superintendent, said.

BISHOP FLAYS MURDER ORGY

Claims Odds Favor Acquittal 680 to 1 in 1920

LARK JUNGALUSKA, N. C., July 18.—Murders which have increased at an amazing pace, and other crimes in the United States are traceable to low moral ideals and standards, Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, declared in addressing a conference of leading educators here to consider the practicality of religious education as a part of the curriculum of public schools.

Bishop Cannon quoted statistics showing that 30,000 murders were committed in the United States between 1918 and 1921; and that the odds in favor of acquittal of murderers increased from 12 to 1 in 1915, to 680 to 1 in 1920.

College presidents of state and denominational schools and leaders in church work attended the conference. Speakers at the meeting today declared it the duty of the state to give moral instructions in all schools and optional religious training so far as the constitution will permit.

GYPSY GIRL IN CELL, COWBOY MINDS ROLL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—When Jack Martin, cowboy, breeched in his first thought was to visit a fortune teller. He saw the brown eyes of Mary Mimbo looking invitingly at him from a booth decorated with all the signs of the zodiac and a few more.

"She said I would go back to California a multi-millionaire and would get everything I wanted," he said in the morals court, where Mary was arraigned on a larceny charge.

According to Herin, he handed Mary a $20 bill and asked to have his fortune told. She folded it up, held it in one of her hands and passed her hands over his head and shoulders, chanting mystical gypsy words. Then she handed him the bill back. It had mysteriously changed to a $2 bill.

INDIAN KILLED FOR WITCHCRAFT

Tribe's Men Ambush Him to Save Another's Life

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 18.—From the mountains of Pushmataha county has come a story to the effect of the superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes at Muskogee that a man of the historic legends of the Indian country.

Around the personification of David Houston, 30-year-old full-blooded Choctaw, hinges a popular story that he was killed because those of his own blood believed he was guilty of witchcraft.

That is one theory that Maj. Victor M. Locke Jr., superintendent of the Five Civilized Tribes, and County Attorney Edward M. Box are investigating.

That "witching" persons took advantage of the sentiment entertained against Houston and had him killed for the purpose of defending his estate of 320 acres of land, is another theory which the two officials are investigating.

On this theory the authorities are proceeding in the belief that the real perpetrators of Houston's tragic death hoped to return suspicion upon Indians who believed that Houston was a witch.

The story as related by Supt. Locke is as follows: Houston was a full-blooded Indian and a neighbor of the dead man, became ill. His joints stiffened and from appearance he was suffering from rheumatism. True to the Indian custom, his parents summoned two Choctaw medicine men, Isam Morris and William Gah.

Johnnie had been shot by a witch ball, the medicine men decided, after a consultation. They pointed to the red spot on his right foot and to the red spot on his left foot, unmistakable evidence, they said, that a witch had designs on the boy.

Superstitious Indians of Corrine the community where Johnnie lived and located about 30 miles east of Andover, the county seat, became excited.

"In three days' time," the medicine men said, "the witch will send a bird or animal. The bird or animal will report back to the witch the condition of the boy. Kill that bird or animal."

For three days the Indians watched. On the third day a bird perched on the roof of the Houston home. Well-aimed bullets missed their mark. The bird flew away in safety.

The next night, Houston hearing a noise, stepped out of his back door to investigate. A load of buckshot struck him in the back. He fell dead in his tracks.

And then the story spread that Houston had been killed because his tribesmen believed him to have been a witch. The Houston boy, five persons have been arrested but they have been released from custody because the authorities were unable to obtain sufficient evidence against them. All were full-blooded.

The medicine men summoned before the county attorney admitted that they had told Houston's parents that the youth had been struck by "witch balls." They also admitted that they told the witch that the witch would send a bird or animal to learn of the boy's condition. They denied, however, that they had placed suspicion on Houston.

Major Locke and County Attorney Box are authority for the statement that the Houston boy began a speedy recovery immediately following Houston's death. Such a recovery is a ways made, according to superstitions of Indians who believe in witchcraft. Lingering death is the alternative unless the witch's agent from the bird or animal kingdom is slain or unless the witch is slain.

Major Locke is inclined to believe that a white man's hand guided the

TWO NATIONS UNDER ONE FLAG!

They are shown here saluting President and Mrs. Harding, who witnessed the history-making event. A special dispensation was granted by the War Department to permit a foreign armed guard to march through an American street. In his speech the president expressed the hope that hereafter representatives of the British navy always would march alongside of American

New Feminine Garb Causes Crime Wave, Says Western Officer

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 18.—Decline of puritanical severity in feminine garb and the modern popularity of ostentatious jewelry, costly furs, clinging gowns of lace and filmy stockings, is responsible for 75 per cent of the crimes committed by women in California.

This condition is attested to by C. S. Morrill, director of the state bureau of criminal identification, who announces that fully three-fourths of all women investigated each year by his department are prompted to law violation by an uncontrollable desire for finery.

Heart interest, however, is the criminal cause of murders committed by women in the state.

Though grand larceny amounts high in the crimes of women, California records show that 50 per cent of such crimes are committed by female house servants.

AGED WOMAN IS BOUND AND SLAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Two canaries chirping in their cage greeted Patrolman David Koegel when he broke into a rooming house.

In an adjoining room the policeman found the body of Mrs. Josephine Freund, aged 70, the landlady, lying on the floor beneath some bed clothes. She had been bound and gagged and beaten to death.

Charge that killed Houston. "The fact that the Indians feared Houston was a witch would have prevented them from killing him, even though they hated him to the extreme," Major Locke said in discussing the case.

"The fear of the Indians for a witch is so great that they would never dare kill one. They believe that the evil spirit of a murdered witch cannot be killed and will return to haunt and harm the murderers."

Houston has repeatedly refused to sell his farm and Major Locke advances the theory that his assassins took advantage of the witchcraft reports and killed him, expecting to be paid to induce his 30-year-old son to dispose of the property.

From the widow the authorities learned that Houston left his house to investigate a noise on the outside. Authorities say they encountered considerable difficulty because nearly all of the Indians in the Corrine community are full-bloods and will not talk.

Discover Alabaster Statue of Minerva Under Rome Ruins

ROME, July 18.—After centuries of digging, exploring and searching, in the course of which hundreds of bronze and marble statues and busts of inestimable value were found, the Roman subsoil has still in store wonderful surprises for the archaeologists and the art lover.

The latest find is a colossal statue of Minerva, entirely of alabaster, which the art experts of the Italian government have declared as absolutely unique.

Professor Paribeni, who is the chief appraiser for the Department of Fine Arts, says that, while mediocre statues of marbles of Greco-Roman make are very common, and are to be seen in almost every museum, to say nothing of the Vatican, which has the most complete collection of statues of Roman emperors, and the Roman museum, which has whole wings full of intact and mutilated masterpieces of Greece and Rome, a statue of alabaster of finest Greek workmanship was unknown to the archaeologists.

The statue was found where once was located the so-called Emporium, a kind of storeroom, where the Romans used to deposit the blocks of marble bought and sold by water not only from the quarries of Sicily, but from Greece and Egypt as well.

The piece of Minerva must also have been brought to Rome by water from some Greek city, and never put up, probably because it arrived damaged. The head and the arms have been found and this statue will be repaired. It shows Minerva sitting, and in the same underground life, the alabaster has acquired a wonderful hue. Professor Paribeni maintains the statue belongs to the first century of August.

Immediately after its discovery the statue was removed to the storeroom of the Thermæ museum.

Dam Engineers Are Hired by Dallas

DALLAS, July 18.—The city commission unanimously voted Friday to employ J. C. Nade and T. A. Thompson, the hydraulic engineers who built the Wichita Falls dam, at a salary of $1,000 each per month to find a suitable place for Dallas to erect its water reservoir.

Mayor Blaylock, in announcing the appointment, declared they would be unhampered in their work and that whatever decision they rendered the city in the way of advising the best location for a new reservoir, such decision would be final and the city commission will abide by it.

WASHINGTON IS TAKING HOLIDAY

Hughes and New Alone are 'Holding Fort'

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Official Washington is a desert. The hot July sun beats down on the pavements. The asphalt squashes under the feet of unfortunate pedestrians in the heart of mid-day. An occasional clerk of under-secretary's matters from one department to another.

The United States government is on vacation. President Harding is in Alaska, where many a pair of wistful eyes turn in following his movements. Some of the heads of his administration are in Alaska; some others of the members of his cabinet are "somewhere else," and about everyone else belonging to Washington who could manage it, is about everywhere but Washington.

And Congress is out of town, too. But then Congress had been almost constantly in session over such a long period, that Washington does not miss the members so much and is sort of glad that they have taken an opportunity to get away—for their sake, of course. The Supreme Court is silent.

Standing as backbones of "why before all are two lone Cabinet members who announce that they will "stick it out on this line if it takes all summer." They are Secretary of State Hughes and Postmaster General New, who will remain at their desks without taking any leave that could be dignified by the name of vacation.

So, all in all, this great nerve-center of the administration of the United States is more deserted this summer than at any time since the Taft Administration, when the then President crossed throughout the country on his famous "swing around the circle" that equals or even exceeds the distance to be covered by President Harding.

Roll of the Absentees

The line-up of President Harding's "absentee cabinet" is as follows: Secretary of State Hughes, who remains here all summer, finding relief from well-known Washington heat only through his residence of the summer home he maintains just on the outskirts of the city.

Postmaster General New, who also intends to stick to Washington all summer, with the possible exception of a few trips of a day or so on official business, such as for the purpose of attending a postal convention.

Secretary of War Weeks, who will spend as much time, if not more, on periodic trips to his home in the mountains of New Hampshire, than in Washington.

Secretary of the Navy Denby, who is spending a month or so of vacation at his summer home on one of the lakes of Michigan.

Attorney General Daugherty, who is leaving shortly for the Pacific coast to join President Harding upon the latter's return from Alaska, for the purpose of taking up a number of important questions with the executive during the return to Washington.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is only on a trip in Europe.

Secretary of Labor Davis, touring Europe.

Secretary of the Interior Work, who is accompanying President Harding on the Alaskan trip.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who joined the President on the coast and accompanied him to Alaska.

Bruin Loses Life Chasing Roast Ham

WEBSTER SPRINGS, W. Va., July 18.—Eli Hamrick, chief game warden for Webster county, states he caught a bear weighing about 250 pounds in an old-fashioned log pen last week.

He tried every kind of bait, but nothing tempted the bear until Hamrick roasted a fine ham. The aroma was too much for bruin, who walked quietly into the pen, only to be crushed to death.

Postmaster General New planning to do here all by themselves this summer?

One asks. It may be that Hughes expects to see the business of his department pick up during this period. His last two summers have been quite eventful, he having brought to a conclusion the negotiations which developed the disarmament conference, the summer of 1921, with the Taft-Africa Conference between Chile and Peru having met here the summer of 1922 under his auspices.

"President Harding said just before he left Washington that he did not fear a repetition of the Lansing incident in his administration, and that there would be no public scenes if Secretary Hughes called a Cabinet meeting during his absence. But will two men hold a Cabinet meeting? observers inquire.

However, the Government is taking this opportunity to give itself a thorough physical cleaning. The White House and the Capitol and also other government departments are being completely renovated. In the halls of Congress war against rats and bugs is being carried on under a special appropriation from that body.

The Government here is being run largely by the "little cabinet" of under-secretaries and assistant secretaries.

Corporation Dividends Are To Be in 'Health'

MADISON, Wis., July 18.—A corporation which pays dividends in health, not in wealth, has been formed at the University of Wisconsin.

Members of W. A. A., women's athletic association at the university have organized a non-profit stock company to build a bungalow on Lake Mendota, where they may rest and play. The cottage will cost $3,000 of which about half has already been subscribed by members of the organization, faculty, members and alumnae who will be entitled to use the clubhouse.

There will be a large living room with fireplace. A balcony surrounding the whole house, and will provide 26 open air bunks for tired athletes. A kitchen and a bedroom for the chaperons will be the only rooms in the cottage.

Field hockey, swimming, volleyball, bowling, basketball, indoor and outdoor baseball, track, dancing and tennis are some of the sports that Wisconsin's coeds take part in. Shower of Bad Eggs Fall at KKK Lecture

GREENVILLE, July 13.—Considerable excitement was created at Cadde Mills when the Rev. J. A. Taber of Commerce was delivering a lecture on the principles advocated by the Ku Klux Klan. It is stated that a shower of young men drove an automobile through the assembled crowd while the lecture was in progress and pelted the audience with stones and bad eggs.

An investigation of the affair is being made by the officers of the county.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT OF BRIDE BALKED

DETROIT, July 18.—Miss Mary Ann, 21, was prevented from leaping into the Detroit river by Patrolman James McGuire, who followed her after she abandoned her duties.

"It's all over," McGuire told her to central station, where she said she had planned to end her life because her husband, Barney, had left their home following the first quarrel of their married life.

She had waited until her 4-year-old baby was asleep before she left the house to seek death, she said. Later she was taken to her home.

EVERY STATE AT NATIONAL PARK

Harding There Meets People From U. S.' Four Corners

ON TOUR WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, July 18.—When President Harding spent two days in Yellowstone National Park on his westward trip, he found the "whale" of America gathered together to meet him.

In the "sagebrush" camps the president met and talked with people from every state in the union, as well as travelers from the Philippines and Cuba. It was, he said, the most wonderful cross section of America he ever saw.

The "sagebrush" or auto tourist camps in the Yellowstone are filled right now with thousands of travelers, brown and happy, who have been trekking over the route east and west, for weeks. The president found many who had spent the winter in California and were "doing" the national parks on their way home. He found others who were on their way to California, and still others who were just going anywhere, home, where, so it was out in the open.

Park officials believe there is an increase in America of the love of outdoor life, and the loves of nature's beauty and grandeur, especially as expressed in such places as the national parks. There were 98,000 visitors to Yellowstone last year, and this year promises to break that record.

Yellowstone is the favorite national park, because of the great variety of scenic beauty it affords. It is also easy of access. This year additional "sagebrush" camps have been built to take care of the influx of visitors.

The president was greatly impressed by the fact that more Americans each year are coming to know the grandeur of their country. Mr. Harding believes that the closer the American people get to the natural beauties about them, the closer they will get to that spiritual mood which he preached all the way across the continent is one of the greatest needs of the nation.

At the end of a Sunday spent in Yellowstone, Mr. Harding told a back platform audience that he felt he had been "acclaimed" to God Almighty today as though I had spent the day in a church made with hands.

Father Shoots Man Who Ran Over Boy

CHICAGO, July 18.—A year ago Mike Gallie, 6 years old, was crushed to death between the wheels of a truck driven by Louis Paparone, ace cream manufacturer, who was later exonerated from blame by a jury. Today Daniel Gallie, father of the boy, is in jail facing a charge of assault to kill and Paparone is in a hospital near death, with a bullet in his left lung fired by the father, who brooded over the death of his boy.

GIRL SAVED BY SKIN GRAFTING OPERATION

DANVILLE, Va., July 18.—After spending six months at a local hospital "Little Zip," an eight-year-old May Zimmerman became known to other patients, has left the institution with a new growth of skin on a large part of her small body.

Last January May fell into the fire at the home of her father, W. L. Zimmerman. She was brought here in a critical condition. All of the flesh of her abdomen and chest had been seared, and little chance was held out for her recovery.

Skin grafting was decided on, and a relative at frequent intervals gave fragments of his skin, and the child underwent a series of operations. She is now considered cured.

SALAD FOR A WEEK

This gives you some idea of the size of the tuna fish, most famous fish of the salad variety. These Nova Scotia fishermen employ a small derrick to lift him from the water.

CHANGE NOTION ABOUT CALOMEL; NOW DELIGHTFUL

Old-Style Calomel Gives Place to the De-Naused Tablets Known as "Calotabs."

With all of the liver-cleansing and system-purifying qualities of the old-style calomel, but devoid of its sickening and dangerous effects, Calotabs has become the most popular as well as the most useful of all home remedies. For biliousness, constipation and indigestion it is indispensable, for nothing but calomel will straighten out a disordered liver.

One tablet at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all—no taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. Next morning your liver is active, your system purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite. Eat what you please—no danger.

Genuine Calotabs are never sold in bulk. Ask for the original, trademarked package. Try ten cents and thirty-five cents. If you are not thoroughly delighted your druggist is authorized to refund your money.—adv.

SALTY SOUP

When the soup is too salty add a few slices of raw potato and remove after they have boiled a few minutes. They will absorb some of the salt.

SOUTH FRANCE IS FULL OF PLANES

Big Stations in Trial Spins And Experiments

MARSEILLES, July 18.—Airplanes everywhere—high and low, far and near.

Five and six in view at once—this is the sight one sees as one travels along the Riviera from the Italian border to Marseilles. As the train winds along the picturesque seaside, travelers soon never to be out of the sound of the hum of an airplane motor.

To a traveler coming from Germany where the passing of an airplane causes the whole population to pour out of doors to watch the unusual sight, one is impressed by the wealth of air machines everywhere visible along the route of travel in southern France.

Many of the big air stations are located in the sunny warmth of southern France and every minute it seems they take the air for trial spins and experiments.

LYON, July 18.—American tourists hitting this in-between city have found a real American barbershop where English is spoken and haircuts in American are on tap.

But there's a trick in it. "Barbe Americain," English spoken, "mode Americain."

This is the sign in the window which entices the wayfarer into the shop.

The American barber turns out to be a Frenchman whose entire American vocabulary consists of the two words "shave" and "haircut" and whose American mode consists of cutting in much hair from the victim's head as he will permit without committing murder.

Wants His Clothes And Also Divorce

WICHITA, Kan., July 18.—John Osid didn't like the idea of having to appeal to the law, but a man's got to have his clothes—and wife's temper, he said, suits the land from whence she hails—Brazil. So John filed suit for divorce and asked the court to give him protection so he could go home for his clothes.

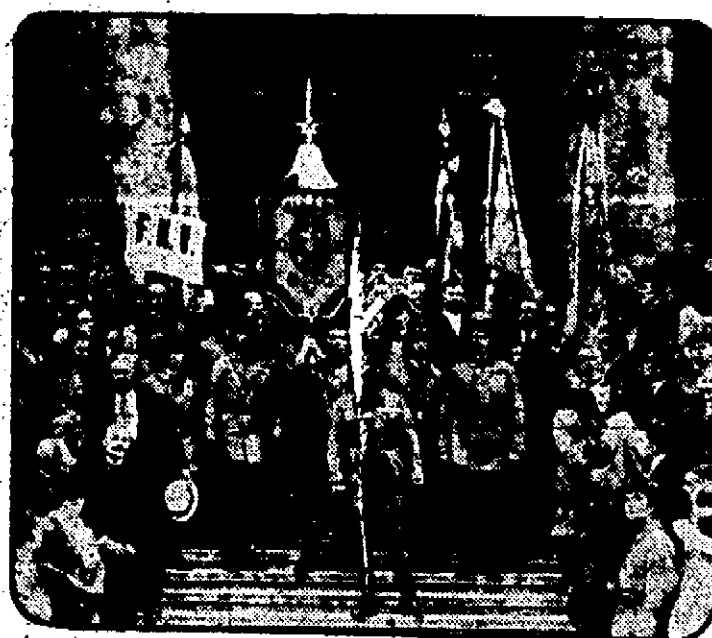

CHILD FALLS TWO STORIES; IS UNHURT

DALLAS, July 18.—Falling from the second floor window to the ground below, Mercedes Southern, 7½ years old, escaped uninjured this morning. Dr. N. W. Blackwell was called to examine the child, and stated that she was not hurt.

IRONING TABLECLOTH

As iron your tablecloth to best advantage fold it wrong side out with selvages together and corners even. Then iron both halves of the wrong side.

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS ORGANIZED

Austrian soldiers, even though losers in battle, have an organization similar to the American Legion. Here they are leaving the Charles church in Vienna after holding a meeting to demonstrate their strength.

Negro Shot During Raid on Dice Game

SANGER, Texas, July 18.—At 1 o'clock this morning officers raided a crap game in a negro hut. One negro shot at Officer John Richardson and returned the fire, shooting four times. Three of the shots took effect in the negro's body. It is thought that he may live.

MOTHERS

Watch for symptoms of worms in your children. These parasites are the great destroyers of child life. If you have reason to think your child has worms, act quickly. Give the little one a dose or two of White's Cream Vermifuge. Worms cannot exist where this time-tried and successful remedy is used. It drives out the worms and restores the rosy hue of health to baby cheeks. Price 25c. Sold by the Corner Drug Co.—adv.

Mad Dog Attacks Graford Citizen

GRAFORD, Texas, July 18.—A mad dog attacked Otis Stowe, a young farmer living three miles west of this city, and inflicted painful wounds. Stowe is now receiving the pasture treatment.

BLACK TAFFETA

For a young girl with fair complexion and blue eyes, Dame Fashion recommends a bouffant dancing frock of baby blue taffeta combined with a frilled top of white organdie.

ONE DEAD, ONE HURT IN CROSSING CRASH

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., July 18.—Mrs. Ellis Franklin of Tilden, Ill., was killed and her husband seriously injured, when Illinois Central passenger train demolished their automobile today at Layfield Crossing, 2½ miles north of here.

CHANGEABLE TAFFETA

Changeable taffeta is used to make some of the smartest of the bouffant frocks. Ruffles and puffs of self material are the most favored trimmings.

BOGUS MONEY? EASY TO DETECT

Secret Service Chief Says
It's Largely in 'Feel'

CHICAGO, July 18.—Take a close look at the paper money in your roll.
Is there a suspicious thickness in the corners of the bill where the amount is printed?
Are the fine lines in the decorative scroll work blurred?
Does the bill seem a bit off color in its shading?

One-Act Show
Yes! Well it's probably counterfeit or raised, and you ought to blame yourself for taking it.
Captain Thomas I. Porter, in charge of the U. S. Secret Service here, who still is on the trail of the money makers in spite of his 77 years, will give you small consolation if you accept bad bills.

"Counterfeiters make their money to pass only once," he warns.
"They're satisfied as soon as the bill leaves their hands and they get value for it. So they don't have to make them either permanent or fit for the closest inspection. Their game, you know, is to pass their money in rush hours on outlying stopkeepers."

Only a Dub
Captain Porter doesn't give the counterfeiter credit for either technical skill or cunning.
"Here's a dub," the captain says. "He hasn't the nerve to go out in the open and rob. And anyone with the skill to operate a camera can make bogus bills."

"There's no reason for his existence, no type or psychology to him. Anyone who doesn't want to work, who feels the lure of easy money, is a potential counterfeiter. Most fake money is easy to detect, even by the inexperienced. Be vigilant and you won't take it."

Then the veteran's mind lapsed back along the 38 years of his service.

"But it used to be that we can across skilled workmen in the counterfeit game," he said. "They were harder to detect in the old days."

Captain Porter is on the job every day. That's the way he keeps young.

UNPUBLISHED HUMOR OF WHITTIER IS READ

HAVERHILL, Mass., July 18.—Hitherto unpublished lines of verse written by John Greenleaf Whittier and by Lucy Larcom, the mill girl poet of Lowell, were read at a meeting of the Whittier club held at the Whittier birthplace here.

The verses were written on a clam shell when the poet and the girl were at Salisbury beach, as follows:

"My Willie is on the deep blue sea,
If he is there, there let him be;
Let him carry a mermaid and cultivate the fins.
When I look at him he always grins,
The fins of the mermaid found in the sea.
Keep safely, O sea, dear Willie for me;
I shall be wretched to live without him.
Now listen, O halibuts and codfishes
all,
Don't nibble the fellows that over-
boarded fall,
Captained by whiskey or struck by a squall."

GIRL GETS A TAXI RIDE WITH PISTOL

NEW YORK, July 18.—Miss Mae McCarthy of Brooklyn, who is alleged to have pointed a pistol at William Kessler of Woodside, L. I., and to have forced him to drive her about in his taxicab, was held in $750 bail on a charge of violating the Sullivan law. Kessler said the young woman kept him driving about a block, pointing a pistol at him and commanding him to "step on the gas." He stopped the cab in Columbus Circle on the pretext of fixing the motor and hailed a policeman.

130 Fine Chickens Stolen at Terrell

TERRELL, Texas, July 18.—John Mosberg, owner of a large chicken farm near here, has lost 130 fine chickens within the last week as the result of two visits paid him by thieves. Seventy birds were taken the first time, and sixty the second. The birds, which were in coops, were carried across a field and loaded on a motor truck, according to the report made by officers who investigated the thefts. Officers of nearby towns have been notified, but no clue has been obtained thus far.

WASONSVILLE, Cal., July 18.—Eight American youths, chaperoned by police, made a statement to leaders of the Chinese colony here that prevented a tong war.

Crosses Ocean 89 Times to Get Rent

NEW YORK, July 18.—Collecting rent on properties in Ireland is no sinecure, for a non-resident landlord. Such was the declaration of Thomas McCarthy, who arrived in New York from Ireland on the Carmania. McCarthy has just completed his 89th trip across the Atlantic. He has been going to Ireland regularly for 44 years to collect rents from three houses in Fomechick.

He declared he often spends a fortnight trying to locate his tenants.

OLD RITUAL OF KLAN IS FOUND

Civil War Document Located
In Old Papers

AUSTIN, Texas, July 18.—What is believed to be the oldest of the original organization of the Ku Klux Klan of Civil War days has been found by Miss Sue Moore of Hubbard in a collection of old manuscripts belonging to J. B. Long of Husk.

Miss Moore is writing a Masters' thesis in history on the life of Mr. Long, a Texas pioneer, and has discovered many valuable papers and letters in the material he has given her for reference. A first edition of Webster's dictionary, which she found in the collection some time ago, has no duplicate either in the library of congress at Washington or in the British museum.

She has also what is probably the last letter written by Jefferson Davis addressed to Reverend D. W. White of New Birmingham, Texas, and dated November 2, 1880. Reverend White was a friend of Mr. Long's.

TRY TO OUST THE LOVE BUG

Authority Says for Maid to Choose Highbrow

NEW YORK, July 17.—When people say about a man many women have loved that "he's got what gets 'em," just what do they mean?

What sort of men do women go crazy about?

Men for a long time have been trying to find out how their more fortunate brothers manage to knock feminine hearts for a lover's knot, but none of them have evolved an answer. However, in France at the present moment some help is offered by Henri d'Almeras, who got a lot of ideas right out of his head and put them into a book which he calls "The Women in Love."

Most of the European boys that he glorifies as fascinating to women weren't any prize dabbles as far as looks go. And as for morals—well, some didn't even have manners.

M. d'Almeras cites the Duke of Schellenberg as the one current in the United States. Mirabeau, Rasputin and Bluebeard Landru.

Although d'Almeras does not regard physical attractiveness as a drawback to would-be women "charmers," he avers that it isn't enough without the mysterious something. Eleanor Glynn, in her writing on sex, refers to this elusive quality as "it."

He gives it up.

The French author finally give it up, unless it is the Don Juan's way of talking to a woman.

Dr. Mary Halton, noted physician, has told us what qualities made the male conqueror what he is today, or at any other period of history. She rather agrees with d'Almeras in his inclination to judge such men by the women who have loved them. She says the sort of thing in a man that drives women quite mad is:

"A certain wonderful childlikeness, combined with the emotional qualities of the great lover."

"If he had some physical defect along with these other two qualities women go all the more mad. Such a man could lack every physical attraction and still be loved."

Dr. Halton has a high opinion of her own sex in such matters as the one under discussion. No ordinary man attracts many women, she insists:

"It is not what we will call the man masculine characteristics that are the most important in love affairs, but the more 'civilized' qualities."

"The old-fashioned idea was that women loved a caveman. That was a popular fallacy."

"Women are not the least interested in the brute as such. Watch a coal heaver or a man lifting trunks in the street. Are women hanging around to look at him? Of course not."

"Women don't go ideal for bull strength in their minds."

"It is men of complete development who are the most compelling. Men who have the courage of adventurers, like Sir Walter Raleigh—that's more attractive than the mere strength of a prize fighter."

"Intelligence and courage attract women: the soldier and the adventurer. That is the thing that traps us."

"And the man who arouses our emotions has other characteristics. We all want a masculine man, but provided he has courage, we don't mind physical defects—they mean nothing."

Defects a Stimulus

"Defects even are a stimulus to love, since they provide something akin to childlike things in a man, the thing that makes us fall into baby talk. Women turn, even over a man, they love him for masculine weaknesses, such as a child has."

"The type loved is the great lover—'All the world loves a lover.' He cannot be recognized for any particular physical characteristic, but for his emotional qualities."

"A woman who loves her husband to the end of life unless he makes love to her every day as a lover would."

"Great lovers and men who have risen through women's favor have been extremely masculine in the more conventional sense, not in the caveman sense."

"Superb brain power attracts women: the great artist, the poet or the preacher—there is your great lover!"

"It is always a truly great person who attracts many women."

"We adore a man for his mental qualities. The common idea that we like a fighting man is nonsense."

Man Is Beheaded By Elevated Car

NEW YORK, July 18.—James Bender, 39 years old, of Jersey City, N. J., a laborer employed by the Interborough Rapid Transit company, was killed. He climbed from a pan hanging under the elevated structure at the Rector street station of the Ninth avenue line, stepping directly in front of a northbound train in charge of Timothy McCarthy.

The front car ran over Bender, beheading him. McCarthy was arrested.

HOLD FATIGUE GOITER CAUSE

Too-Much Exercise Blamed By Scientists

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 17.—Fatigue and overwork are the chief causes of goiter, according to Dr. Joseph L. De Courcy, specialist of Cincinnati and head of the goiter clinic at the Nelson Hospital here, who has completed a survey of 3,000 patients. He said that eight women develop the growth to every two men.

"That excessive exercise in work of high school age is a cause of goiter was asserted by Dr. De Courcy. In the report of his survey he said:

"Excessive athletic and gymnastic work, especially in high schools when girls are going through the adolescent period, is, in my opinion, being overdone at present. I have had numerous cases which I felt were directly traceable to excessive gymnastic work which when discontinued caused a retrogression of the goiters."

"Gymnastic work is important in the schools, but the zone of the child's endurance must be valued very gradually, and great care taken not to let the child overstep its threshold of endurance, which is 50 likely to occur in this age of over-ambition and competition."

"Several years ago I advanced the theory that fatigue plays an important part in the production of goiter, and I felt that the growth develops when the normal limit of a patient's endurance is exceeded, whether suddenly or gradually. Women develop goiter more readily, because their zone of endurance necessarily is narrower than that of men."

LEARN AND READ HOW TO BE 140

Doctor Says Illness Should Be Condemned

LONDON, July 18.—Man is getting the worst of it from whoever allowed him a span of only three years and ten years of life. Dr. Leonard Williams, noted author of medical books, told the Aldwych Club.

But man gives himself the worst of it regarding illness. Dr. Williams added.

He declared that man's expectation of life should be from 120 to 140 years; and he held the "unscientific" theory partly responsible for insuring man otherwise. As to illness, Dr. Williams said:

"If we become ill we ought not to be pined as victims, but condemned as fools. It is just as fantastic to talk about being a martyr to rheumatism as it would be to talk about a martyr to diphtheria tremors."

"Man is virtually the only reasoning animal," Dr. Williams continued. "But the price he pays for his reason is a heavy one—the loss of his instinct or intuition. Man reasons, but he is the only animal who does not know how to feed himself."

"Woman is less logical than man, and more intuitive. The more logical she becomes, the less intuitive she is," Mrs. Reuben Hurd.

"Instincts of the lower animals are increasing. Man has only his reason to guide him. And his reason, blurred and befogged by every kind of bias—in which great figures very largely—causes him to arrive at the most fantastic and deadly conclusions."

"One of these is that the normal span of life is about 70 years."

"If you estimate the average age of the lower animals in relation to the time it takes them to reach maturity, and apply that formula to man, you will arrive at the conclusion that man's normal span of life is from 120 to 140 years."

"The reason why we have been content with these seven years and ten and speak of a man of 80 who is still vigorous as a marvel, is partly on account of the Bible, which is not a scientific work, and largely because in matters physiological we are content with a very low level of medicine."

Illness Not Inevitable

"We must learn to divest ourselves of the idea that there is something heaven-sent and inevitable about illness. There is nothing inevitable about it, still less is there anything heaven-sent."

"In greater or less degree, chiefly in greater, all disease is preventable. If we get an illness it is our own fault sometimes, and sometimes, but very seldom, the fault of our forebears."

"We speak of the normal as synonymous with the average. The average man is not normal. He is grossly, and even grotesquely, abnormal."

"It is necessary to realize that

PULL DOWN SHADES TO KEEP OUT ANGRY BULL

When a man has developed his powers and attained his maturity, maturity ceases to be a function, of time, but becomes a physical state which it is the duty of the man to maintain in its pristine vigor for as long as possible.

OSMUNGER, Okla., July 18.—Pull down the window shade if there is a bull in the neighborhood, was the advice of police today following a "bull session" here last night.

A wandering bull, attracted by a light in a window, charged, demolishing the window pane. Continuing his rampage he climbed up on the front porch and put a porch swing out of commission.

Officers hauled the bull in the back seat of the residence where he was staying about with his head through a plate glass.

BOOZE CASES DROP TO 150 MONTHLY IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, July 17.—From an average of more than 1000 a month before the state enforcement act was revealed the number of arrests for liquor violations made by the police of this city dropped to about 150 in June, according to figures obtained from authoritative sources today. The statistics show the increased burden placed on the small force of federal prohibition agents here, which, to all appearances, has not been increased since the Mullin-Gage law became effective.

Reports that a thousand additional federal agents would be mobilized in New York have not been fulfilled. While the enforcement officials will not reveal the exact number now operating here, there is reason to believe the usual force of 200 to 250 has not been augmented. In fact, 18 agents were dropped recently because of lack of congressional appropriations for their pay in the new fiscal year, starting July 1, 1923.

TRAINED CARP
RATH, Eng., July 18.—Trained carp are a feature at the local burlis. They come to the surface at the keeper's call, permit themselves to be lifted from the water, and at dinner-time answer a bell which their leader—15 years old—rings by pulling a spring.

WAR HERO HELD IN OLD FORGERY

Brought Back to Face Seven
Year Old Charge

NEW YORK, July 18.—Donald Persch, 40 years old, winner of a war cross for valor, and since the armistice a real estate dealer of Glen-dale, Cal., was brought back from the coast to face a charge of forgery now seven years old.

On his plea of guilty, he was sentenced by Judge Roark in general session to serve one year in state's prison.

Five indictments were outstanding against him, to one of which he made the plea.

Twenty years ago, as a youth, Persch was employed in the office of the district attorney.

A meeting with members of the old Gombor gang of confidence men, of whom it is said Nicky Arnstein was one of the leaders, led Persch on the wrong track. In 1916 he forged checks to pay hotel bills, and was indicted.

Dallas Motorists Fill Tanks With 13c Gas

DALLAS, Texas, July 18.—Motorists were driving the "old bus" here today with reckless abandon and with 12 cent gasoline in the tank.

A price war between oil companies has brought the retail price of gasoline down to 12 and 13 cents, the lowest it has reached for several months here.

Dealers declare there is little prospect of the price going any lower at present.

BOARD AND ANCESTORS

The reporter was wondering his way home last night when he was approached by a very angry, hungry-looking man with wild eyes and an emaciated face.

"Can you tell me, sir," he inquired, "where I can find in Houston a family of low born scrubs?"

"I don't exactly understand," said the reporter.

"Let me tell you how it is," said the emaciated man. "I came to Houston a month ago, and I hunted up a boarding house, as I cannot afford to live at a hotel. I found a nice aristocratic looking place that suited me and went inside. The landlady came in the parlor and she was a very stately lady with a Roman nose. I asked the price of board, and she said, 'Eighty dollars per month. I tell against the down-jamb with a dull thud, and she said:

"You seem surprised, sah. You will please remember that I am the widow of Governor Riddle of Virginia. My family is very highly connected; give you board as a favor; I never consider money an equivalent to advantage of my society. Will you have a room with a door in it?"

"I'll call again," I said and got out of the house, some how, and went to another fine, three-storyed house, with a sign 'Board and Rooms' on it.

"The next lady I saw had gray curls, and a soft gaze-like eye. She was a cousin of General Malone of Virginia and wanted $16 per week for a little back room with a pink motto and a picture of the battle of Chancellorsville in it.

"I went to some more boarding houses.

"The next lady said she was descended from Aaron Burr on one side and Captain Kidd on the other. She was using the Captain Kidd side in her business.

"I traveled around all over Houston and found nine widows of supreme court judges, 12 robes of governor and generals, and 22 ruins left by happy departed colonels, professors and majors, who put fancy figures on the benefits of their society, and carried victuals simply as a side line.

I finally grew desperately hungry and engaged a cook's board at a nice, stylish mansion in the third ward. The lady who kept it was tall and imposing. She said she was an aunt of Davy Crockett, and was still in mourning for him. Her family was one of the first in Texas. It was then supper time and I went to supper. Supper was from 6:50 to 7, and consisted of baker's bread, prayer and cold soup.

"Now, my dear sir," continued the stranger, "I am not wealthy, and I cannot afford to pay for high thrice and muddy ancestors with my board. Corned beef goes further with me than a cornet, and when I am cold a coat of arms does not warm me. I am desperate and hungry, and I hate everybody who can trace their ancestors further back than the late Confederate Rennon. I want to live in a boarding house whose proprietress was left while an infant in a basket at a livery stable, whose father was an unmaternalized Duce, and whose grandfather was never placed upon the map. I want to strike a bed-down, scrubby, prebald sans culotte outfit that never heard of finger-bowls or grace before meals but who can get up a mess of hot corn bread and Irish stew at regular market quotations. Is there any such place in Houston?"

"The reporter shook his head sadly. "I never heard of any," he said. "The boarding houses here are run by ladies who do not like boarders to make a living; they are all trying to get a better rating in Bradstreet's than Betty Green."

"Then," said the emaciated man desperately, "I will shake you for a hot toddy."

The reporter felt in his vest pocket haughtily for a moment, and then refusing the proposition scornfully, moved away down the dimly lighted street.

TOM SIMS SAYS

The easiest way to run across your friends is to need a shave so badly you try to dodge them.

Lower taxes will not be in sight as long as government expenses are out of sight.

Many a man is a bachelor because he eats onions or because he doesn't brush his teeth.

Many a girl is an old maid because she don't laugh when she doesn't see the point of a joke.

The crank thinks one bad turn deserves another.

You must keep as busy as a bee to keep from getting stung.

WALL STREET

Do you know how Wall Street got its name? Back in 1653, when New York City was known as New Amsterdam and was owned by the Dutch, it feared an attack from nearby English colonies. To keep out invaders, the inhabitants built a wall of logs and thick planks. The highway that gradually came into existence inside this stockade was called Wall Street.

The wooden mass was only 12 feet high, with sharp points along the top. To withstand battering-rams, it was braced on the south or inner side by banked-up earth.

New Amsterdam finally was captured by the forces of the Duke of York and renamed New York in honor of the captor. It wasn't much of a military victory, at the time, only 208 defenders surrendering.

The 208 might have done some tall fighting if they had known the future value of the dirt road inside the wooden wall.

It gives you an idea of how primitive things were, less than 300 years ago, when you stop to consider a reasonable defense against an attacking army.

Compare with modern fortifications and you realize the progress made by the devilish ingenuity of man in the matter of military devices.

One large bomb, dropped from a modern airplane, would have annihilated the old wall and most of the village it protected.

By another two years France expects to have 7000 military airplanes of high-power battle type. She already has 1250, against England's 600, America's 445 and Japan's 240.

The whole scheme and also the futility of armament is graphically illustrated by the comparison of modern armaments with the wooden stockade from which Wall Street got its name.

Go back in history and you find men inventing shields that were impenetrable by spear or arrow. Then came gunpowder and the bullet that would pierce shields. It's a merry-go-round system, alternately working out a means of protection, then a means to counteract the protection.

The steel industry one year perfects a battleship armorplate that no shell can penetrate. Then comes a shell that penetrates anything existing to date. Then a stronger armorplate, next a more powerful shell . . . so on, generation after generation.

The armaments race goes on now, as in the past, thinly disguised. Somehow humanity cannot get the fact through its dense brain, that there is no perfect protection or defense and no last word in offensive weapons.

No matter what any one invents for offense or defense, some one soon discovers a device that counteracts it. Of all stupid and asinine follies, the armaments race is easily the leader. And will be, until the people strip their politicians of the power to declare war.

WHERE THE TARIFF STINGS

President Harding praised the republican tariff all the way from Washington to Juncos. He declared it had brought unrivalled prosperity to the farmers of the west. He asserted that it would continue to bring prosperity to the farmers of the west. Bingo! Wheat slumped to a dollar a bushel and farmers who had been holding their wheat to the extent of two hundred million bushels saw disaster in the distance and their leaders predicted ruin for thousands.

Before the coming of the republican tariff Canadian cattle growers shipped their livestock to the American market to be fed. Now the Canadian livestock growers have been forced to sell in foreign markets and that has reduced the purchasing power of Canada in the United States markets to the detriment of American business activities.

There is the yearly surplus in Canada of about two hundred thousand head of livestock. Before the coming of the republican tariff this surplus was sold in the United States and the Canadians bought their goods in the United States. Now they are shipping their cattle to England as the Canadians find themselves unable to pay the republican tariff of two cents a pound enacted by republican statesmen.

For ten years this Canadian surplus came to the United States, Canadian cattle raisers say that the American tariff has already lost them fifteen million dollars to say nothing of the loss to American feeders. Canadians have been large buyers of American goods. They are called from the so-called mother country now.

American newspaper manufacturers are aroused over threatened Canadian embargo of pulp-wood cut on private lands and predict a shut-down of many mills in the United States if the embargo is laid. Should this happen the price of news-print may go to the skies again. This will pinch the pockets of the people as well as pinch the pockets of publishers of American newspapers.

A tariff as created by republican statesmen appears to be in the nature of a two-edged sword. It cuts both ways. There should be reciprocity between the nations of North America (Canada and the United States are neighbors. They should enjoy friendly trade relations. Mexico and the United States are neighbors. They should enjoy friendly trade relations.

Mexican crude is on the free list. Why a tax on Canadian cattle? Why a tax on Canadian wheat?

CONTINUOUS WORKERS

Employees of the United States Steel Corporation enjoy the seven-day week and the twelve-hour day. In the big rolling mills of Homestead laborers work on Sunday. Not long ago President Gary advised all the people to turn their thoughts to God. How is a man who works from sun until sun on Sunday and every other day going to get time to turn his thoughts to God?

These steel workers work eighty-four hours each week and those who are not on the twelve-hour shifts are required to remain an hour or two hours over-time at night. Overtime pay is at the same rate as regular pay.

Chairman Gary is the head of one of the richest corporations in the world. Henry Ford is head of one of the richest corporations in the world. Henry Ford has the eight-hour work day. Henry Ford does not run his plants on the Sabbath day. Henry Ford has the highest minimum and the highest maximum wage scale for his employers found anywhere in the world.

Henry Ford's plants are neither open plants or closed plants. Henry Ford never has trouble with his employees. His men never strike. He is never compelled to employ strike breakers. He enjoys the friendship of organized labor; he enjoys the friendship of unorganized labor.

How does the Michigan billionaire manage it? He should be able to give some valuable information to President Gary of the Steel Trust and to other captains of industry who are forever warring with their employees.

FANS

When hot, be careful to keep out of the direct breeze of the electric fan, warns Dr. George W. Riley of New York. He says we can shut all the windows and doors, turn on the fan, and get a more thorough cold by the help of a little machinery than our forefathers clad in skins and taking swims in winter ever dreamed of.

POLA NEGRI IN BELLA DONNA

An advance notice says: Inconceivable moving herself the greatest tragic actress of the screen, Pola Negri, the famous European artist, made her debut in her first American made picture, "Bella Donna" at the Peoples theater yesterday. Sifting her personality and artistry to perfection, "Bella Donna" is a screen creation by this gifted actress that will live long in the memory of those who see this remarkable cinema classic, produced by that master director, George Fitzmaurice.

Pola Negri is at her best in the portrayal of such characters as "Bella Donna," a notorious woman who marries Nigel Arncliffe, an English engineer played by Conrad Nagel. When they go to Egypt, the spell of the tropics completely transforms her, and when she meets Baroud, a desert chieftain, captivated by her beauty's love and clinging to him, she is avenging a "rate of close to $25 a year for every man, woman and child. It may not seem much, but a great many people make a good living running less than $25 worth of machinery. Then, too, it's in addition to the scores of billions of dollars of capital already at work.

RIBBONS ENJOYING MUCH POPULARITY AND ARE SEEN ON ALL KINDS OF FROCKS

NOT SINCE the Victorian era have ribbons had such a popularity as they are having now. They are seen everywhere on all kinds of frocks.

Wide ribbons shading from violet to purple, from pink to rose, and from pale blue to deep blue are used as sashes, to edge flounces, even to edge wide sleeves. Narrower ribbons are used to make the flat flowers and rosettes that trim dancing dresses and negligees.

On some of the new full-skirted frocks big rosettes made of tiny ribbon roses hide a pocket for powder and rouge. Velvet ribbon is used on organza as it was years ago. Pleated ribbons are used for princess little frocks. There's a ribbon or a ribbon ornament for almost any dress that needs such a trimming that is new.

The poke hat continues its reign in Paris, although several millinery designers are sponsoring the new "scuttle" hat, which differs slightly from the poke. Its crown is higher than the crown of the average poke and its brim is very narrow. All hats continue to keep the short back effect. "Tulle" and "Lyonnet" are the favorite fabrics used for early fall models and brown and green are the leading hat shades. There is a shade of deep wine that is also used a great deal.

Feathers of all sorts from "barnyard fowl" to ostrich will be used this coming season and it is predicted that the ostrich in all its variations will be seen on sports hats as well as on dress hats. Vari-colored feathers and feather fascias spotted with metal are shown in quantities. Pompadour, wheel effects, and tassels of burnt ostrich trim many tailored shapes. Ribbon still holds its popularity as a trimming.

Metal-cloth blouses lavishly worked in beads are seen in great numbers in the Parisian shops. Metal, by the way, is stressed as one of the leading fabrics for fall for formal gowns, blouses, hats, etc.

Just now the Parisians are wearing little straight-lined suits with short, pinstriped jackets.

Choker necklaces, so popular with the Parisians, are matched by earrings, bracelets and accessories of like color. Cornelian and crystal are the most popular of the semi-precious stones used. Glass beads in such colors as ruby red, onyx blue, sapphire and jade green are quite as popular as the more costly stones.

The lip-stick pendant which hangs on a long pearl necklace is the latest accessory from Paris. One can not lose one's lip-stick if it is tied about one's neck and the Parisian believes in having her lip-stick ever ready. Not only does she keep her lips a crimson hue, but she never feels that she is completely groomed until she has put a bit of color on her chin and on the lobes of her ears.

It is time to drop the handkerchief. Aren't we getting just a little weary of the handkerchief? Dresses with handkerchief collars, hats with handkerchief drapes, blouses made of handkerchiefs, sashes made of handkerchiefs, bathing suits made of them, bathing turbans of them. Isn't it time to "drop the hand-

Brains May Start With Handicap But They Finish Ahead of Beauty

By MARIAN MALE
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, July 18.—In the fight for woman suffrage, Betsy Graves Rayneau of Detroit was one of the most earnest and interesting leaders. Today she is quite as distinct a personality in the artistic world.

Her portraits are exhibited at the most exclusive Fifth avenue art galleries, and celebrities flock to her studio.

"They're so different," critics say of her oil studies. "That's because I try to make each portrait a character study," she told me. "I try to do with a brush what Theodore Dreiser does with words."

I study my sitters as if I were going to write about them instead of paint them. That's the reason I care very little for doing merely pretty women. Just putting a pink and white skin and a rosy mouth on canvas doesn't interest me at all. I'd rather paint disappointment, or bitterness, or craftiness, or any personal quality which is a definite attribute of character and may be the very thing that detracts from conventional beauty or regularity.

Brains With Beauty

That started us talking about the modern type of woman that is being developed by the complex existence of today.

"As women become more intellectual, they should improve in looks," Mrs. Rayneau asserted. "Brains actually mean a better skull formation. And I believe men will require a taste for intelligent women. But after all, whatever type women possess to or revert to, men will always have to accept them as they are. They are so necessary to the race, no matter what they become."

"The beautiful woman will always have the advantage at the start, and the brainy one at the finish. I have found that most beautiful women were not intellectual, not because they didn't have the capacity but because they did not have to. They could get all the excitement they desire without exerting themselves for it."

Personally Instead

"The woman, however, who looks into her mirror, and sees that her Irish nose, Italian eyes, English chin and German figure form a composite type that has no claim to beauty, and who admits frankly that since there isn't much to attract men with on the outside, she'd better develop the inside of her head, is the one that grows a personality."

"And she's apt to get more interesting as the beauty deteriorates." Mrs. Rayneau is a thorough feminist and believes in women and their possibilities. She believes they have everything now but recognition.

"And when women can get a slant on life that is not purely emotional, or that is a combination of intellect and emotion, with the intellect holding the emotions down where they should be, they will force men to recognize their worth and give them their rights in the artistic world," she concludes.

After the officers had been installed, little Miss Louise Allen crowned the

HATE, DEATH, FEATURE FEUD

Berry, Sneed, Beal Row Not Ended Yet

PADUCAH, Texas, July 18.—C. R. Berry is back on his ranch near here today following his acquittal by a jury in Seymour of killing Wood Barton, neighbor, and John Beale Sneed's son-in-law.

Across the boundary fence is the Sneed home. There are no men there at present. Wood Barton has been in his grave for eight months and John Sneed lies grievously wounded in a Quinlan hospital.

Texas family feuds don't get the publicity nor have they the glamour of the Kentucky or Tennessee style of affair—but for sheer onerous definiteness of purpose they easily beat the mountain brand.

Walked Past Window
Berry left the courtroom yesterday a free man in the eyes of the law—but also, a killer. He had pleaded self-defense. Berry moved with a definite purpose as he slipped from the building. He walked close past the window of the man he had slain and the wife of the man he had attempted to put off this earth. His eyes were set straight to his front.

As he hit the sidewalk it was noticed that he took the inside, next the wall. A killed and one who fears he will be killed always does that. For then the street wall is always handy of reach and with your back to that one can at least be sure of a fight to the front.

Not that Berry feared anything from the Sneed women yesterday. But the family has many friends in Texas counties and one never knows.

Snead Awaits Recovery
And now to John Sneed, who picks at the coverlet of a hospital bedspread while his black eyes swell, impatiently waiting the time when he can once more put foot on the main street at Paducah—also on the inside of the sidewalk and next the wall.

Snead is a killer, too—twice indicted. He sent to their deaths both the man who stole his wife away and that man's aged father. Bitter, unrelenting, hating, he took the law in his own hands—and the law freed him as it freed Berry yesterday.

Once he tried to kill Berry since his son-in-law met his death and one Berry has tried to kill him. Both must stand trial for the attempts.

Future Holds Answers
The question is, will either be alive when that time comes?

Snead, bitter, relentless; Berry, quick and nervous with a sense of injury real or imagined, Paducah's main street with the solid walls on both sides assuring a fight to the front. Twisting gun hands always hovering over holsters.

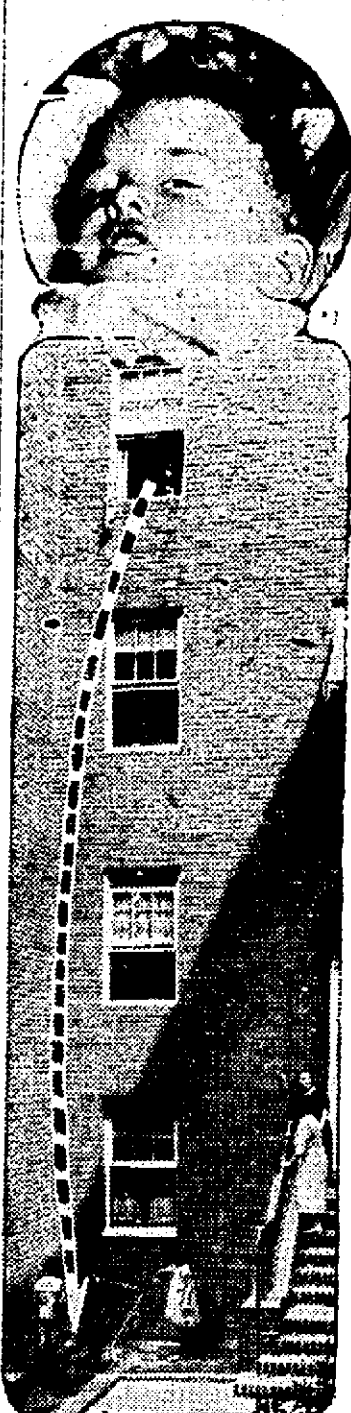

How will it end?
Members of churches here are pointing out what a chance for a bright young man of God to bring these two men of the plains together before another tragedy is added to the list.

KICKS TOO HIGH, HUSBAND SUES HER

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Gladys E. Cleveland entertained her men and women friends with high kicking "stunts."

This charge was made by Guy T. Cleveland in a suit for divorce filed in superior court. The husband declared her high kicking caused him great humiliation and mental suffering.

Graham Man Hurt In 30-Foot Plunge

GRAHAM, Texas, July 18.—Heinie Cox, a tool dresser working on the U. S. Scott rig of the North American company near South Bend, was seriously injured as the result of a fall from the derrick. He was firing a sand line when he lost his footing 20 feet from the ground. Both of his arms were broken.

Many men flare up as if "Please Heintz" and "Final Notice" were not first cuss words.

REDHEADS ARE NOT EXPLAINED

Savants Fail to Find Reason For Pigment

NEW YORK, July 12.—Why are redheads?

This momentous question is one of the latest to be included in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, in the form of a scientific paper prepared by Dr. Alex. Hrdlicka, of the United States national museum. The paper treats the color of the eyes, hair and skin of 2000 members of old American families, and includes both races.

Redheads Really Rare
Dr. Hrdlicka points out that the true redhead is a human being of extreme rarity. As to the variation of redheads in sex, there are, he said, five redheaded women to every redheaded man.

Dr. Clark Whistler, of the anthropology department of the Museum of Natural History, this city, asserts that there is no known reason, from a physiologically speaking, for redheaded people. Dr. Whistler said:

"If you go to the central part of Norway or Sweden, you will find that about 90 per cent of the population is blond, and, likewise, in Southern Italy, brunettes comprise about 90 per cent of the inhabitants. There is, so far as we know, no center for redheaded people, and therefore red hair is not a type, as are the other colors."

Pure Accident
"It is a mixture caused, so far as we know, by cross breeding, and is a pure accident. It is a hybrid color, and, what is more, we cannot tell what cross produces it. Indications are that it is the result, in a great many cases, of the intermarriage of the pure brunette of a lighter shade inasmuch as the offspring of the marriage of a brunette and a blond will almost invariably be a brunette."

"Redheads are found in far greater abundance in Europe, especially in the northern part, than in this country."

ACCOUNTANT GIVEN $250,000 A YEAR
LONDON, July 17.—High priced Standard Oil men who feel they have got into a rut and want a new start in life might do worse than come to England. D'Arcy Cooper, a London accountant, has just signed a 15-year contract as vice chairman of Lord Leverhulme's tremendous soap company, at a salary of $250,000 a year. He gave up a $150,000 job to do it.

THE GRIST O' GOTHAM

By CASUAL STEADLER

NEW YORK, July 17.—Farmers aren't the only ones who rise or fall on pranks of the weather. City folk sometimes are as vitally affected in the regions of the pocketbook by unfavorable weather. Coney Island concessionaires, in particular. These little stallkeepers, vending hot dogs, or angelade, etc., pay fabulous rents for their cubbyholes, and it is a saying among them that if they can't make a clean-up on the Fourth of July they might as well quit for the season. It rained torrents last July 4, and the night before. As a result one small thoroughfare off Surf avenue contained 12 concession stands suddenly gone out of business for the season.

It's "Standing Room Only" at Broadway's daily outdoor concerts. Crowds line the curbs of Tin Pan Alley—in 47th street just west of Broadway—and listen critically, cynically, and sometimes enviously. For many have been among the performers trying out their voices—and the public ear—with some new popular songs, hot off the presses. It isn't much entertainment for the enterprising. It's just work. But the lingers-on, idly curious, don't mind—unless the voice is too bad.

Home brew secrets are now being applied to coffee making. Copeland Townsend, of the Majestic hotel, claims credit for discovering that you can make better coffee by taking a page out of the bootlegger's book.

"We neither boil the coffee in water nor percolate it," says Townsend. "Here's the secret: Pour boiling water on the ground coffee and let it seep through into the coffee pot. As it seeps down it is filtered through rice paper—exactly the same sort of filter the home brewer uses to get the impurities out of liquor. The process is rather difficult in the home but it's worth the trouble."

Absinthe is the rarest and costliest liquor handled by New York bootleggers. Champagne is cheap and common in comparison. A Broadway bootlegger quotes absinthe at $80 a bottle—one quart, not a case! Absinthe is prohibited in France, so is Townsend says statistics show.

Little lessons in Gotham slang: A hard-boiled customer in a Sixth avenue drug store disdainfully refused the pile of silver handed out in change for a $5 bill.

"Folding money's what I want," he said. "Gimme folding money. No hard stuff for me. I like to fold up my roll so's I can feel it."

Little lessons in Gotham slang: A hard-boiled customer in a Sixth avenue drug store disdainfully refused the pile of silver handed out in change for a $5 bill.

"Folding money's what I want," he said. "Gimme folding money. No hard stuff for me. I like to fold up my roll so's I can feel it."

Absinthe is the rarest and costliest liquor handled by New York bootleggers. Champagne is cheap and common in comparison. A Broadway bootlegger quotes absinthe at $80 a bottle—one quart, not a case! Absinthe is prohibited in France, so is Townsend says statistics show.

Home brew secrets are now being applied to coffee making. Copeland Townsend, of the Majestic hotel, claims credit for discovering that you can make better coffee by taking a page out of the bootlegger's book.

"We neither boil the coffee in water nor percolate it," says Townsend. "Here's the secret: Pour boiling water on the ground coffee and let it seep through into the coffee pot. As it seeps down it is filtered through rice paper—exactly the same sort of filter the home brewer uses to get the impurities out of liquor. The process is rather difficult in the home but it's worth the trouble."

THE GRIST O' GOTHAM

By CASUAL STEADLER

NEW YORK, July 17.—Farmers aren't the only ones who rise or fall on pranks of the weather. City folk sometimes are as vitally affected in the regions of the pocketbook by unfavorable weather. Coney Island concessionaires, in particular. These little stallkeepers, vending hot dogs, or angelade, etc., pay fabulous rents for their cubbyholes, and it is a saying among them that if they can't make a clean-up on the Fourth of July they might as well quit for the season. It rained torrents last July 4, and the night before. As a result one small thoroughfare off Surf avenue contained 12 concession stands suddenly gone out of business for the season.

It's "Standing Room Only" at Broadway's daily outdoor concerts. Crowds line the curbs of Tin Pan Alley—in 47th street just west of Broadway—and listen critically, cynically, and sometimes enviously. For many have been among the performers trying out their voices—and the public ear—with some new popular songs, hot off the presses. It isn't much entertainment for the enterprising. It's just work. But the lingers-on, idly curious, don't mind—unless the voice is too bad.

Home brew secrets are now being applied to coffee making. Copeland Townsend, of the Majestic hotel, claims credit for discovering that you can make better coffee by taking a page out of the bootlegger's book.

DIVORCES RARITY AMONG FARMERS

Survey Also Shows Marriages Run High

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18.—That marriage runs high and divorces are on the decline among Nebraska farmers is one of the conclusions announced by J. O. Rankin, who has completed a survey of the farms of the state for the department of agriculture and the state university.

Mr. Rankin says that another interesting fact is the lessening number of children on the farms, which have for years supplied the cities with boys and girls. The average number of children on the farms studied was a little less than three, and owners, wives form the greater portion of those sick on the farms.

Almost without exception the number of children in the farm homes increased as the investigator moved westward. Owners and part owners have more children than tenants. Nearly all of the children who have left home are from the families of farm owners.

Hired men have a chapter to themselves. Only one owner out of seven and one part owner out of three have men employed regularly to assist in the farm work. The later averages larger in the amount of acreage, which accounts for the difference. Only a comparatively few hired men are married, and only a few of them divorced.

FLEXIBLE GLASS IS TO BE MADE SOON

LONDON, July 18.—Continental experimental scientists are on the eve of announcing one of the greatest discoveries of the age. According to Prof. A. M. Low, known as England's Edison, the aim of German and Austrian scientists is to discover how to make flexible glass and Professor Low says that so much success has been attained that he is confident the announcement will be made within two years. At that time the folding window pane and the collapsible electric light bulb will be put on the market.

Low says he has already contrived the non-disappearing keyhole and the lurch-like lead pencil that cannot be lost. The drying up of the U. S., it is said, has cut off a promising market for the non-loseable keyhole.

The negro arrived in Cleburne late yesterday afternoon he had come here from Waco. The woman's mother informed officers that the negro was here. It is said at the sheriff's office that the negro is wanted also in Denton county.

SHEPPARD GETS TEXAS LIFE JOB

Joins Committee on Prisons And Labor

AUSTIN, Texas, July 18.—To United States Senator Morris Sheppard is awarded the distinction of becoming the first life member of the Texas committee on prisons and prison labor, according to a statement made today by a member of the executive committee of the organization.

In making the first installment on the $300 life membership fee, Senator Sheppard took occasion to commend the work of the women's joint legislative council.

According to the statement given out here, Senator Sheppard will visit this city some time during the congressional recess.

The council to which Senator Sheppard has contributed was instrumental in securing a scientific survey of the prison system of Texas. It was through its efforts that the necessary legislation was passed.

The roster of the officers, board of directors and executive committee of the organization contains the names of approximately 50 of the state's most representative men and women. With J. H. Caldwell of Abilene, recently appointed by Governor Neff, as a member of the University of Texas board of regents, as chairman.

MYSTERY OF BONES ON CAMPUS SOLVED

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 18.—The so-called "mystery" about the discovery of human bones in a steam shovel excavation on the University of Michigan campus is solved. Old residents recall that the spot where the bones were found was the location, 50 years ago, of a circular vault under the old anatomical building, in which bodies were placed after experimental dissection by students. Dissected bodies now are disposed of by cremation.

SHE WILL WAIT YEAR FOR MATE

Sarcastically Says It Will Take That Long

DETROIT, Mich., July 18.—Mrs. Tessie A. Leichter, 20 years old, has a whole year in which to find an ideal husband, and she says with some sarcasm that it will take that long or longer.

Mrs. Leichter was granted a divorce by Judge Joseph A. Moyilhan on condition that she will not remarry until she is 21 years old. She was 17 when she married Lelloy Leichter in 1920.

Mrs. Leichter admitted she will marry when the year is up—if she can find the right man.

"I haven't any man right now, you see," she explained. "Of course, I want to get married again, but I am going to wait until the ideal man comes along. I will have a whole year to find one and I am going to be mighty particular, too."

Her husband left her a week after they were married, she said, and for this reason she hasn't a very exalted opinion of husbands. Recently she received a letter from him, telling her she had better get a divorce.

"I don't mind waiting a year," she said quite airily. "I think it was nice of the judge. I haven't had much married life, but what I did have made me cautious now."

Nice thing about a vacation is getting back.

Farmer Is Shot in Quarrel; One Held

CLEBURNE, Texas, July 18.—Lee Pearce, a farmer, 43 years old, who lives in the Nemo community, about 20 miles southwest of Cleburne, was brought to a sanitarium here for X-ray examination and treatment. He is said to be in a serious condition from pistol wounds, inflicted in an argument with B. F. Perryman, over a land and cattle deal. Perryman, it is said, shot Pearce twice. Perryman was arrested and placed in the jail at Glen Rose.

Cleburne Country Club Plans Picnic Grounds

CLEBURNE, Texas, July 18.—The directors of the Cleburne country club gave the house and grounds committee authority to clear out the park on the bank of Nolan river, making it suitable for picnic parties, and to place swings and other amusements for children, and clear out the brush along the bank of Blue Hole, clean out any obstructions that may be in the water, and convert it into a swimming pool for members. Lumber is on the ground for dressing rooms for both men and women, and a floating pier will be constructed with gangways leading to the dressing rooms.

CRIQUI'S LINE OF FRENCH PASTRY IS WHAT LANDED HIM THE FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE

Citizens Pounce on Connally's Offerings for a 7 to 4 Finish

Ragged Game Marks Renewal of Battles Among City Squads

Leachmen Swat Connally's Offerings in Second for Seven Hits and Six Runs, While Cook Hurls Self to Victory With Strikeouts

By BILL ARCHER

It was a ragged game. And it got more ragged as the final innings drew near.

Connally appeared to grow indifferent in the second stanza, the Citizens connected with a ball he seemed to be lobbing over, and as a result the final count was chalked up, 7 to 4, for Skipper Mack Leach's proteges while the crew from the Island dropped another clash in the City League race.

Ten players were used by each contingent in the issue; and a total of 19 base hits were meted out to the boys on both sides that brought along a real old-fashioned swatting stick to amuse the crowd with.

A comedy of errors on the part of mis-judgments on the part of the Islanders produced a series of laughing spells at intermittent periods during the contest that kept the "pepper" going, at least, and while Cook landed eight strikeouts, helping a couple of misses and helping his colleagues down the Gardeners, Connally was being pounced on with all fours.

The game ended in the second inning. Fandom couldn't tell it just then, but nevertheless, the game was over in that period, when the City crowd battered all the way around and one over, touched Connally for five singles and two triples and gathered in six counting rallies before three men could be retired.

That put a crimp in the early lead developed by the Islanders when they had gathered in a home run during the last of the first, and then had seen Cook retire their batters one after the other without mishap.

A couple of additional counters in the third and one in the fourth ended the game as far as they were concerned, but it is probable had the issue gone further, the Island squad might have collected more runs.

Black and Blount did the driving stunt for Skipper Gardner yesterday, both being dished out neat two-base clouts at the hands of Cook, while Perkins cleared the bases with a three-bagger in the second and was followed in short order by Bennett, who did likewise. Both drives went all the way back to the wire fence at the extreme north section of the diamond in center field, and appeared good for home runs at the time.

Skipper Gardner introduced a pair of new players on the field, who answered to the names of Stelly and Martin, while the City produced Minnow, former Texaco third sacker, and placed him at work on short. Minnow did his duty, and played 1,000 per cent for the day in the field, while in the three trips he made to the plate, he collected one run and one hit.

Martin was not credited with a time at bat, nor a hit, while Stelly, who took three trips to the plate, failed to locate Cook's offerings. Black and Townsend shared with Perkins, Morgan, Leach, Bennett and Wright the hitting honors of the day, all but the latter being awarded a pair of hits each in three times at bat, while the latter collected a hit in his two times up and a walk the last time he faced Connally.

The game dragged practically all the way through, and grew considerably sluggish toward the concluding chapters. Fielders took long distance sprints to half just in front of where the ball would strike the ground for a clean hit, and once during the game it seemed to infielders turned in to share the comedy.

ORANGE GETS BOXING CARD

Twenty-Four Rounds of Pep On Bill for 28th

According to announcements made here yesterday, arrangements have been completed by Eddie Price of Atlanta, Ga., for the staging of a boxing card at the Liberty Theater at Orange, under the auspices of the American Legion, Friday night, July 28.

The evening's bill includes a 10-round go as the main attraction with "Pug" Morris and "Kid" Gordy as the principal entertainers while "Kid" McGreevy of Orange meets "Baby" Wallace of New Orleans in the six-round semi-final.

Wiley Daigle meets Ernie Tronsett in six rounds of a match that promises to be a snappy, while the four-round curtain raiser between two dark sons of Africa will start the program off right for the evening. Morris and Gordy are both classy boys and have lots of wares to exhibit. Price, a fighter himself, and who is assuming the role of promoter for the occasion, is fortunate in lining this pair up for an argument.

NO PACT YET ON DEMPSEY BOUT

Rickard Parleys to Delay Signing Up Champ

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, July 18.—Another promise of something "today or tomorrow" about the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship match was made today by Tex Rickard.

"There are just a few little details to get straightened out before I can make a definite announcement of when and where the match is to be held," Rickard said.

Rickard was willing to say positively that the South American would meet Dempsey for the title before the end of the year, either in the United States or South America.

"I have Firpo under contract to meet Dempsey this year and if I am unable to make the match I am no promoter," Rickard said.

Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, takes the stand that he does not care where the fight is to be held. He is more interested in the date, as he wants to send Dempsey against Firpo and Walls before the end of the year.

Kearns prefers Labor Day for the Firpo match and he wants the Walls bout in or near New York around world's series time.

Getting a world's heavyweight championship near the time of the baseball classic may cause the major magazines to froth some more and they have been frothing plenty all summer because so many fine boxing cards have been placed in competition with the "grand old national pastime."

Unless some action is taken soon to close the baseball parks to boxing, the club owners are powerless to stop big matches.

While heavy conversation is being centered in the heavyweight division, to the exclusion of other sport, the promoters of the Leonard-Tendler fight are getting peeved.

"The indignation is passed around that Rickard is promising something definite today or tomorrow," is merely throwing words and trying to crowd the lightweight championship bout next Monday onto the classified page.

"The Leonard-Tendler fight is a 'natural' though, and the tickets are going as though there were no such thing as a heavyweight," Jimmy Johnson, promoter of the fight, said today.

Leonard and Tendler are both working into the final stages of their training, and it seems certain from the advance sales that the fight will draw a half million dollars. Leonard has been established as a slight favorite in the early betting.

Details for the water carnival being arranged by the News' sports department are being carefully worked out and plans for the celebration of the most pretentious carnival of its kind ever attempted are being laid.

LIVING COSTS GOING HIGHER

Situation Is General World Over

GENEVA, July 18.—The world is facing another general increase in the cost of living.

This, at least, is indicated by the latest world-wide statistics just received by the International Labor bureau on wholesale prices.

Up until a month ago, wholesale prices the world over were showing a marked tendency to stabilize. During the past month, however, for reasons that have not yet been clearly established, this tendency towards stabilization has turned into a steadily upward movement.

Only one country in the entire world, namely, France, has been able to report for the past month a decrease in wholesale prices.

World-wide Movement

Since the close of the war and the organization of the International Labor bureau, the latter's statistical department has been able to demonstrate that the first perturbation of an increase in the cost of living is a rise in wholesale prices. This quickly spreads to retail prices, and in a short time a general increase is reflected in the entire cost of living.

Countries which have reported during the past month an increase in their wholesale index numbers, as compared with a previous tendency towards stabilization, are the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Belgium, Denmark, Italy, Norway, Holland, Poland, Sweden, Switzerland, China and Japan. In other words, the tendency is essentially world-wide.

In France, the only country in the world to report an actual downward tendency in wholesale prices for the past month, this phenomenon is believed to be due merely to the fact that wholesale prices there had been steadily increasing ever since February, 1922, and had probably reached a point considerably above that of other countries.

French Situation Good

France was able to report not only a fall of 9 points in her wholesale index number, but also a fall of 1 point in her retail price.

On the other hand, in Czechoslovakia, where wholesale prices had been falling steadily since the beginning of 1922 till the beginning of 1923, when they participated in the general world-wide tendency towards stabilization, the index number there has turned towards an increase as in all of the other countries except France.

Owing to the fact that a certain period of time must elapse after an increase in wholesale prices before the latter is reflected in retail prices and the cost of living generally, the statistics for the past month have not as yet shown any serious change in the retail prices. This, it is declared, however, is inevitable and it is expected that next month's world-wide reports will begin to see last month's increase in wholesale prices reflected in the retail price of things and the cost of living generally.

Here's How I Britisher Stopped a Young War

LONDON, July 18.—Here's how to stop a war:

Georgia and Armenia were too impatient in 1919 to wait for the Versailles decision on a number of little matters. The armies of Georgia and Armenia met, and each decided for war.

Sir Tom Bridges, then at Tiflis, was advised of the impending hostilities. Sir Tom learned that the might of the British empire was represented in the territory disputed by a schoolboy at the age of 17 years. The boy's title was control officer.

The next day an answer was received. "War is ended."

The young man had mounted a mule, draped himself in the Union Jack, paraded between the opposing armies and ordered "cease fire."

His heroism neutralized a 70-mile square zone, made himself an error and was only relieved of his responsibilities when he began tinkering with the country's law and religion.

BANDIT'S RICH DAD SCOFFS AT HIS ARREST

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 18.—Awaiting sentence in the courthouse jail for attempting two daring highway robberies at sun point, Ernest Mainland, 24 years old, formerly a Birmingham photograph supply dealer, feared that his wealthy English father might think of his plight "a joke and a laugh."

Replying to two cablegrams, the father, Frank Mainland, a manufacturer of shoes at Norwich, England, has wired his disbelieve and indicated no desire to aid.

WOMAN, 86, CLIMBS MOUNTAIN UNAIDED

RIVERSIDE, Cal., July 18.—Mrs. Mary F. Spencer, 86 years old, of San Diego, is on her way to the San Jacinto mountains, where she will collect botanical specimens for Harvard university and the Museum of Science, Uncompagned, she will climb the mountains and roam the hills in search of rare plant life.

Mrs. Spencer apparently has the vigor of a woman in the thirties, having recently climbed to the summit of Lookout Peak in the Descanso mountains.

RIVAL 'SHINERS' SIC OFFICERS ON OTHERS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 17.—As the result of a bootleggers' war here, one faction of illicit liquor makers directed county officers in raids on rival camps.
